

Don't Be Like Sisyphus

Sisyphus was a Greek god who was cursed to repeatedly push a boulder up a hill, only to have it roll back down the hill, 5979 for all eternity. Trying to get out of credit card debt can feel a lot like that sometimes. Even the thriftiest spender can rack up considerable debt when hit with unpredictable life events like job loss or medical emergencies. But MilePost is here to help. With one of our debt restructuring solutions, you can save on interest and speed up the process of paying off debt. We have a variety of options that can make paying off debt faster and simpler. We want to work with you to find what fits with your goals, your path. So, stop pushing that bolder. Give us a call or stop in and let MilePost help you break the curse of high-interest credit card debt.

